

hi.
hey.
hello.

At indigoff we search to innovate in design, functionality and technology, allowing our customers to enjoy an optimal workspace and pleasant atmosphere through our products.

We are in a constantly evolving market, so our know-how in terms of acoustic solutions, sustainability and service makes us the best option for any office and workspace. When it comes to ceilings, indigoff knows what's best.

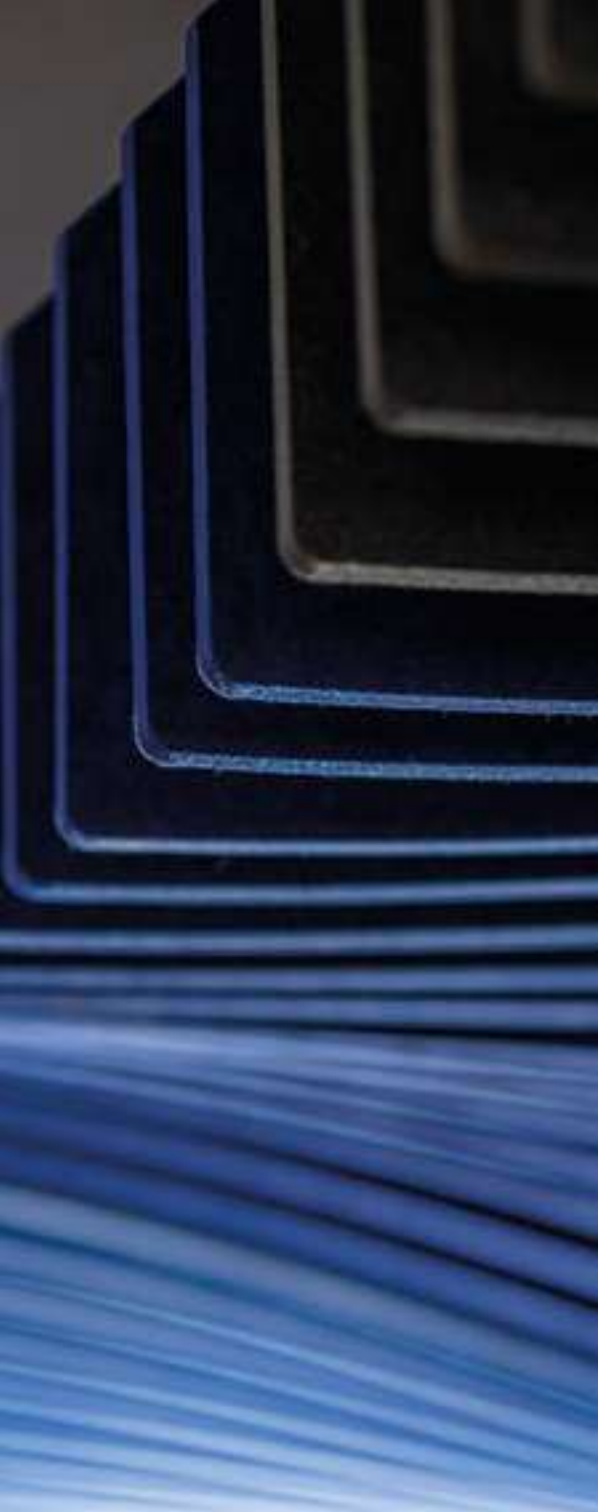

Characterized by its simplicity in design, we seek our products to be practical, with impeccable quality and leading our designs to deliver comfort and convenience to our clients, while becoming the number one solution in the market.

Without a doubt, indigoff is the new way of looking up.

High ceilings turn out to be very attractive. However, they often bring an increase in reverb. Ceiling panels are particularly effective in these cases, creating a functional and visually appealing solution.

clouds

Suspended from the ceiling, the clouds absorb noise and are a very attractive solution for all types of rooms. With a wide variety of colors available, acoustic panel clouds are capable of transforming any space.

When there are issues with echo and sound transfer between rooms, panel walls can serve to reduce discomfort, improve concentration and add a touch of vitality to the space.
